1. ABOUT US

This website is the wholly unofficial website of Royal Holloway College alumni who attended the college during the period between 1965 and 1985 ("the Association", "we" and "us") and is operated and managed by Jon Cutter. If you have any comments or questions about this website or any of our services please contact us by one of the methods shown below.

Email: jon@RHC70s.org

You can also contact us via the Alumni team at Royal Holloway College, whilst they have no control over the Website they are familiar with it and help us verify whether potential members meet the requirement of having been students during that period. Their contacts details are:

RHC70s.org is a well established (well, since 2007) unincorporated association that is not registered anywhere with any legal standing. It has grown organically from being a few friends who were reminiscing and sharing old pictures and now covers all those who were students at the College between 1965 (when male undergraduates were allowed for the first time) and 1985 (when the College merged with Bedford College and started a rapid expansion)

The website is a part time hobby which has grown in the last 20 years from what it was initially set up for to a site with over 1000 members and lots of shared memories. Membership is free, the atmosphere is relaxed, we sell nothing, carry no advertising or third party promotions and have no revenues to cover any of the costs. The only people we share data with is each other and the alumni team at the College (who help us confirm who is a genuine alumnus).

2. Privacy

Your privacy is important to us. Please see our Privacy Policy for details about what information we collect and how we will use and protect it.

3. Transactions with the Association

We sell nothing and there is no subscription of any sort – so you will never be asked for any banking details through this site. We do promote reunions of the members every couple of years, none of the financial transactions for the events or the accommodation are done through the RHC70s website – the College handles all of that for us. The structure and management of the reunions are undertaken by the members and the website provide a service to communicate information about them.

4. Commercial Partners

We have no commercial partners and share no information about any of our members but we do make use of a free email service for small associations provided by Mailchimp. When you register on the website your email address is added to our Mailchimp email list but every email they send out will include an unsubscribe option so you can opt out of future emails without affecting your membership of the website. You can also ask us to remove you from our mailing list.

5. Ownership Of Materials And Licence Terms

The Website and the materials on it (the “RHC70s Materials”) are protected by copyright, trade mark and other intellectual property rights and laws. Materials are mostly provided by our members who retain all their rights to them but allow us to display and use them for the benefit of the members. Wherever possible, photos from the period are displayed in albums showing the name of the contributor who is considered to be the copyright holder. If you feel this has been incorrectly assigned, then please bring it to our attention. There are some photos that have come from multiple sources where ownership is unclear – but we have tried to manage this by enabling comment on each photo. You are permitted to display the RHC70s Materials on a computer screen and to download and print a hard copy for your personal use provided you do not alter or remove any copyright, trade mark or other proprietary notices. You agree not to:

- use any of the materials on this website for commercial exploitation without the Association's prior written consent (which will usually be withheld);
- do anything that may interfere with or disrupt this website or our services;
- post any information on or send any information via the Website (whether on any bulletin board or in any chat room or otherwise) that does not comply with the Association's Acceptable Use Policy set out at paragraph 6 below; or
- do anything that may infringe the rights of any other person.

If you send any comments, suggestions or materials to us from or concerning the Website, our email services, the Association, its members or any other matter ("User Materials"):

- the Association shall be entitled to adapt and make those available to other registered users and to those doing academic research associated with the College who have gained approval to access the materials from the Association. If the academic research wishes to use any of the member photos then specific approval will be sought.
- No materials will be provided for commercial gain or commercial use.
- You warrant that you have obtained all necessary licences and/or approvals in order to allow the Association such use.
- On the death of a member any Materials they have provided to the site then the rights to use the Materials will be conferred on the Association unless the member has previously requested that the material be removed from the site.
- On the Associations demise (I.E. My death or inability to continue to manage the website) all User Materials will be gifted to the College Archives unless the provider has stated that they do not want this to be done.

6. Acceptable Use Policy
